

Annual Report

matla a bana
a voice against child abuse

2012/2013

Successes 2012/13

Very successful working relationships between SAPS GT & SAPS WC Provincial offices and Matla A Bana.

Very successful working relationship between Matla A Bana and other NGO's working in the field of child protection.

Matla A Bana received extensive national media coverage and our messages reached more than 1 million people.

Matla a Bana had a national impact with the Comfort Pack Project.

Matla A Bana implemented eleven new child-friendly facilities and rooms and expanded services to Mpumalanga and the Boland.

More than 250 officers of the law in were trained in specialised skills.

Matla A Bana rewarded more than 40 officers of the law for service beyond duty.

We secured R2. 2 million worth of non-monetary sponsorship (goods & services).

The Matla A Bana projects had an impact on 15 000 children during the last financial year.

Challenges 2012/13

The low report rate of crimes against children is still a major concern.

The negative image of the police with the public.

Child abuse is still a taboo subject.

Unwillingness of volunteers to work in previously disadvantaged areas, due to misconceptions and fears.

Reallocation of FCS Units to new offices, resulting in the need to relocate the MAB child-friendly.

Limited funding for administration and projects, resulting in having to turn down many requests for assistance and not being able to roll out nationally.

SUCCESS

STOP!

This was once again a year filled with many challenges, some old and many new ones! This year we were specifically made aware of the danger our small children can find themselves in when they are left in the hands of care takers. We were approached by three different groups to help them with suspected rape and abuse of toddlers at play school.

Both cases were in Cape Town it took months of collecting facts and negotiating with parents before action could be taken. As a direct result of intervention by MAB and with the support and help of the police and the National Prosecuting Authority, we are glad to say that the school has been closed and a criminal case was opened.

In the second, case we had to rely on a very supportive partner and donor, Cyanre The Computer Forensic Lab, to assist parents who's children were raped at the preschool and pornographic photos were taken. Unfortunately this perpetrator was tipped off and managed to cover his tracks very well. Although many hours of investigation went into this case, still no arrest has been made and this school is still operational.

These cases made us realised once again that the public perception of "rape only happens in the poor areas" cannot be further away from the truth. In both of these cases the children came from affluent homes where parents trusted these care givers. We were however shocked by the ignorance surrounding the signs and symptoms of abuse and the refusal of some of the parents to believe that this was happening – at the cost of their own children.

The reality is that no child is safe, whether it is from a sexual predator lurking at a church, a father who is abusing his own children and their friends, or a brother who is raping his own sister. It is a well-known fact that the greatest danger comes from within the immediate circle of the child. How can children feel safe and protected if they are in fact being abused by those who need to protect them? How can they go for help when it is the breadwinner of the house, who comes knocking on the door at night?

This has just highlighted the urgent need of education not only of children, but also of their parents and care givers.

So what are the signs and symptoms parents should look out for:

BEHAVIOURAL SIGNS

- Sudden fear of a particular location, gender, or physical appearance of a person.

- Crying when being dropped off at day care.
- Exhibiting a great fear of being left alone or separated from a parent when in the presence of the abusive party.
- Being afraid of getting undressed for bathing.
- Show signs of regression and may go back to wetting his/her pants and thumb sucking.
- Frequent nightmares.
- Increased interest in sexuality.
- Unable to engage in normal, interactive play with their peers.

EMOTIONAL SIGNS

- Sudden, drastic personality changes (from outgoing to drawn back)
- Less talkative or no communicating or displaying signs of a speech disorder such as stuttering.
- Lashing out at other children, adults, or animals with uncharacteristic anger and aggression.

PHYSICAL SIGNS

- Bruises, burns, black eyes, cuts, abrasions, and other injuries, especially in unusual places such as the face, head, chest, back, arms, or genitalia.
- Pain, itching, bleeding, or bruises in or around the genitals, difficulty walking or sitting, or signs of a urinary tract infection.
- Changes in appetite or a total loss of interest in food.

Please do not ignore these signs and most importantly listen to your child when they speak. We as adults often miss not only important facts but also the joy the words of our children can bring!

CHILDREN ARE A BLESSING

OUR YEAR IN A NUTSHELL

Financial constraints were once again our greatest challenge. We continued on the principal of the previous years where donor funding is allocated to projects and fundraising events were used to cover the administrative costs. This once again put huge pressure on the staff as we currently have no fundraising officer and the focus on projects meant that fundraising could not get a high priority.

Unfortunately we had to turn many requests for assistance away, especially from units in rural areas because of a lack of funding. Although we have identified needs like training of doctors and implementing of facilities in many rural areas, we could not achieve this as most of the donors and sponsors prefer the metro areas or areas of operation.

In spite of all the challenges this year has been one of our most successful years of project implementation. We managed to open more child friendly facilities and supply more comfort packs than in the previous year. A great contributor to our success was the continued support of loyal donors who shares our passion. This support is not always necessarily in the form of financial donations, but product and services support have grown tremendously. This year we manage to secure more than R 2.2 million in product and services and during this coming year our projects will help more than 20 000 children who report crimes against them.

People can often not understand how two people manage to implement so many projects and have the successes in numbers that we do have! But we are not alone in this fight! Lizel has the support of a large group of volunteers from churches who form part of the Adoption Project. We have been delighted to see more and more companies allowing their staff to join as volunteers. If it were not for these groups we would not have been able to do the work we do!

I have to make mention of the hundreds of dedicated officers of the law and medical practitioners who go beyond the call of duty to make a difference. People like Dr Donovan Andrews at the Karl Bremmer Rape Clinic who, in the midst of a hectic schedule, will always take a call and be ready to help. Or Advocate Ronel De Jager at Parow Sexual Offences Court who is prepared to drive around to collect food to make sure children do not have to testify on an empty stomach. Not least a long list of police officers, forensic social workers and prosecutors who work endless hours to make sure that serious criminals, like the Sunday Rapist, are put behind bars so that children can have a safer country to grow up in.

I also need to mention the other NGO's working in the field with whom we are so privileged to have great relationships with. Believe me sometimes it is the most unusual partnerships, like by being able to ensure the help of a under privileged group of kids from a Houtbay Informal Settlement (Lalela Art Project), to paint a child friendly room at Stellenbosch SAPS FCS unit. Not only did we manage to restore their faith in the police and what they do, but their talents will brighten up the lives of many abused children! We would like to thank a long list of partners, including Friends of Child Protection, Rays of Hope, Embark Foundation and many more for understanding that "united we stand" and are living by it!

To our board of trustees a huge "thank you" for offering your time and more importantly your wisdom to ensure that we are doing the right thing and to Gauteng project manager, Lizel Van Eeden, for growing into a capable and effective warrior! But in the end we give all the glory to God for calling us to do this work and for being our greatest advisor and fundraiser and for making sure we stay on the right track. May we all remember that children are a blessing from God and may we love and celebrate them!

Fundraising and Marketing

In celebration of our 10 years of existence, Matla A Bana kept up to date by having a face lift! Our new logo and website were launched at our AGM 2012. The new logo portrays young children playing with the letters MAB. We specifically went for the childlike look because we felt that the public are not only desensitized about the plight of abused children, but also about the every day needs and problems of children. With this new look we hope that we will be able to share with the public the innocence and joy of children.

We continued to use our blogspot for everyday use and it is so popular that we actually qualified for Google advertising, meaning that we can raise a bit of money by you looking at our site! Our Youtube site is also active although our film making skills are not that active! We have also started to use Facebook as a marketing site for our fundraising projects.

We managed to secure a huge amount of media coverage during the year. Not only as news items, but also as the spokesperson for children and issues related to child protection. We were interviewed on many radio stations including Cape Talk, Radio Rippel, 5FM, Radio Laeveld, Radio Algoa, Radio Pretoria, 702, KFM, Radio Namakwaland and SAFM did a 30 minute interview on the Matla A Bana projects.

Several MAB projects were covered in Servamus Magazine during the year, whilst Vroue Keur Magazine and You/Huisgenoot also featured the charity. Coverage were also obtained in Wes Beeld, Krugersdorp News, Sunday Times, Die Burger, Tygerburger, Sondag, Witzenberg Harold, Worcester Times, Paarl Gazette, Eikestad Nuus and the Cape Argus did a full page story.

Pol TV did a story on police officer, Paul van Eeden and his epic twenty-four hours on a motorbike for MAB!

MAB was also profiled during the Old Mutual Directors Event, the annual Crime Line celebrations, as well as the annual Lead SA event.

We would like to thank all our media partners for helping us spread the message and your continued support.

Awards and recognitions:
Monique Strydom was awarded the Hero of The Year Award (Lions International District 410A) and Matla A Bana received a certificate of recognition from SAPS Stellenbosch.

Administrative

We still have no full time staff and all staff are still appointed per project. We were joined by Mariken Jansen Van Vuuren as project assistant for the fundraising events for 6 months.

This year MAB has enjoyed the help of more than 1000 volunteers, through our Adoption Project and then the two huge comfort packs sessions at the Old Mutual Offices in GT and the WC and Media 24 offices nationally. We were not only delighted with all the help we got, but also for the opportunity to raise the plight of abused children amongst such huge groups.

Our board of trustees has remained the same and we would like to thank them for their continued support and wise counselling. Absa Trust is still the administrative trustee and will continue in this role.

Massyns and Associates took over the task of the auditing of the financial statements at no cost to Matla

A Bana. We would like to thank Johan and his staff for this great service.

We have managed to save hugely on rental due to the sponsorship of JHI (Gauteng offices) and the Strydom family (Cape Town offices and store rooms). We would also like to thank the City Lodge/Town Lodge group and Afrique Boutique Hotel for assisting with our accommodation requirements and Roni Muller for all the creative work.

We started the year off with lot of action. In the Western Cape the "Slide for a ride" project was hosted, where 1000 free tickets for Cool Runnings were given to school children and the public in a drive to secure comfort pack items.

In June, MAB staff and supporters were challenged to put on their dancing shoes and join the real dancers for a 12 hour Danceathon on Youth Day. More than 200 school children participated in the event, but it was the steps of young and old that gave much joy to the onlookers.

One of the most inspirational fundraising efforts where that of SAPS officer, Col Paul Van Eeden, who decided to take on a 24 hour motorcycle ride across 9 provinces to raise awareness of our cause but also to raise funds. This was a true example of what difference one person can make and in the end Paul raised close to R100 000 in donations (funding and products) for MAB.

The auction website, bidorbuy, invited MAB to join in the Celebrity Auction for 2012 and continued to give us the free auction facilities for other auctions.

Various other fundraising events were hosted by groups and individuals for our charity. Mosaiek Church invited MAB to be part of their annual crafts market, MAB was once again a beneficiary of the Race of Hope (an annual cycling event hosted by Rays of Hope), Cape Talk presenter, John Maytham raised more than R 150 000 for our therapy pilot project by sharing the horrific stories of some of the children who have to go through the court process. The Round Table Roodepoort made sure that we worked very hard for our donation during their annual trolley race at Clearwater Mall! The group of golfers from the Western Cape Housing Department once again made MAB a beneficiary of their annual golf day.

February also saw the launch of the Xtreme for Kids Cycle Tour during which a group of businessmen decided to spread the message that men should not rape and abuse across the country by cycling from Johannesburg to Cape Town. But more about this effort in next year's report.

We were truly inspired by all the efforts of these individuals and groups who share our passion for our children.

Adoption Projects

(Community Mobilisation)

Mobilising community groups to adopt and assist SAPS Family Violence, Child Protection and Sexual Offences Units and Sexual Offences Courts.

This year saw a decrease in the number of adoptions from 25 to 16 in Gauteng mainly because of the fact that members who were the driving force behind the adoption left the congregations or the faith based groups changed their focus for the year. Although there was no funding for this project in the Western Cape, two new adoptions were secured on the West Coast.

Child Friendly Facilities (Victim Support & Community Mobilisation)

Minimising secondary abuse by creating child-friendly reporting facilities or rooms at police stations or hospitals. Including audio-visual recording facilities and two-way mirror, waiting area, assessment & monitoring room. Where there is no funding secured or where there is no accommodation available, Child-Friendly rooms are implemented.

As a result of a few large donations toward this project we were able to open more than the average number of facilities per year.

These facilities were implemented in high risk areas.
